CITY OF PROGRESS

HERY PAZ saxophone

KENNETH JIMENEZ double bass

RODOLFO ZUNIGA drums

"City of Progress" is an avant-garde music trio composed of saxophonist Hery Paz, bassist Kenneth Jimenez and drummer Rodolfo Zuniga. They've known each other and played in different configurations over the years, and created this project to keep nurturing the special energy that moves between all of them when playing together.

The wide range of sonic & textural capabilities of this band allows them to explore different worlds whenever they create music together, making it a constant to try to reach new possibilities and explore new roads.

The music puts improvisation at the center of what they do while also taking inspiration from their diverse musical backgrounds, coming originally from Latin America, but having established their musical careers in New York City (Paz & Jimenez) and Los Angeles (Zuniga).

The trio will be releasing their first album in 2022, under the umbrella of NYC avant-garde label "Irazu Records."
