"My music incorporates notation improvisation electronic production and elements of staging and AV—I intentionally rearrange these as a constellation of operations whose movement defines my practice. This constellation is concerned with how music's effects on all parts of our action and thinking can transform the categories we use to frame what is sensible in our world. Out of a background in jazz theater and philosophy I juxtapose conceptual/relational/sonic strategies in my works to get listeners and performers alike into a space where they are simultaneously immersed and reflective."
